AMADIO

Winemakers from 1936

A cellar door in the suburbs with a unique atmosphere is what you encounter as you enter Amadio Wines. Built on a long history of successful and award-winning winemaking, this third-generation family-owned and operated business first began when Giovanni Amadio commercially registered his Dry Table Wine in 1936.

Now Danniel, Giovanni's grandson, is following in the family footsteps and has substantially expanded the Amadio brand. Amadio Wines maintains its successful reputation through careful selection of fruit from the family's Kersbrook Vineyard in the Adelaide Hills.

The impressive list of national and international trophies and gold medals awarded to Amadio Wines, vintage after vintage, reinforces the positive and consistent standard of exceptional quality. Priding itself on its Italian heritage, Amadio Wines now stands as a nationally and internationally awarded and recognised brand, with a focus on the production and sale of quality wine.

Why not indulge in and enjoy Amadio's premium wine with wonderful food and friends? Drop into the cellar door and pick up a bottle today.

HEARTLAND

Heartland's ethos is simple and honest. To produce food-friendly, varietal wines and innovative blends from the best fruit in Langhorne Creek.

The Heartland story began in the 1990s when winemaker Ben Glaetzer became excited about the outstanding quality of fruit being grown in South Australia's Langhorne Creek. Together with Nick Keukenmeester and more recently Nathan Lawrence, they have grown Heartland into an internationally acclaimed winery over the past two decades.

Heartland Wines sustainably sources all of its fruit from Langhorne Creek and makes certified Vegan wines so everyone can enjoy them. Heartland's award-winning wines can be found throughout Australia and across the globe.

An extension of their Langhorne Creek cellar door, Heartland's Norwood tasting space offers small groups of up to eight people the opportunity to experience the Heartland story in the City.

LAMBROOK

Adelaide Hills Wines

Beginning as a dream of Adam and Brooke Lampit in 2008, Lambrook Wines has evolved into a fully-fledged and respected South Australian wine label, featuring on many restaurant wine lists.

With two small parcels of fruit (Shiraz and Sauvignon Blanc), friends and family were the original taste testers. But it didn't take long for the word to get out and for Lambrook Wines to become increasingly in demand.

Adam and Brooke were both in the wine industry prior to creating Lambrook Wines, which has given them the experience and the motivation to be hands on throughout the entire process. From winemaking to bottling, labelling and even delivering, Adam and Brooke have dedicated their time and passion to making their dream a reality—and this is what makes their wine uncompromising and of the highest quality. If they aren't happy with the fruit, they won't make the wine. They will only produce the best and showcase the Adelaide Hills in the most positive light.

The Lambrook Wines cellar door is nestled among a number of warehouses, and has been transformed into a minimalistic and unique space featuring a shipping container that has been retrofitted into a bar.

Visit Adam and Brooke to experience all that Lambrook Wines has to offer.

Little Bang Brewing Co.

Little Bang was born in 2013 when former game developers and brewing buddies Fil and Ryan started dreaming, designing and collecting equipment, materials and tools. Eighteen months later a hand-made microbrewery was launched in Fil's garage. With their small batches of beer quickly selling out, Little Bang soon ran into the problem of being unable to produce enough beer to meet demand. So, in late 2015, they moved into their Stepney premises where they also opened a small cellar door.

After three short years and increasing national demand, it was time for Little Bang to expand again. Fil and Ryan wanted to stay close to their Stepney roots, moving just two streets away to a larger premise that allowed tap room capacity to increase by 240%.

Whilst beer might be the boys' go-to, they have delved into broader markets, collaborating with other local producers to create exclusive wines and gin, which are available only at the tap room.

The in-house kitchen serves a selection of Asian, Mexican and American style street food and share plates and can cater for functions and events across the tap room, mezzanine and beer garden.

With more than 60 beers in the range, which includes everything from traditional style pale ales and porters to the more obscure sours and barley wines, there is always something new to try. The fully stocked takeaway fridge will ensure you can continue to enjoy Little Bang beers at home.

MOOROO ROO PARK VINEYARDS

BAROSSA VALLEY

Moorooroo Park Vineyards has a long and storied history. The vineyard and orchards were planted in the mid 1840s on the banks of Jacobs Creek by patriarch Samuel Nitschke after he and his family endured an arduous voyage to Australia from Hamburg. Several stone buildings, a smokehouse and cellar built by Samuel remain on the property today. Custodians for more than two decades, Wyndham and Patricia House, have enhanced the Barossa property while striving to preserve its rich history.

More recently they have ventured into Adelaide bringing a touch of Barossa charm to two local heritage properties on North Terrace, Hackney, which have been transformed into a beautiful wine space with tasting rooms and an olive courtyard.

Walking distance from the Adelaide CBD, MooBar by Moorooroo offers personalised wine tasting experiences available by appointment throughout the day, cellar door sales, private meeting rooms, monthly wine dinners, tailored functions and events, and wine consultations. The team look forward to welcoming you for a wine tasting or to enjoy some of the beautiful wine available by the glass.

Reform Distilling

Reform began with two Adelaide-raised brothers catching up over a gin and tonic, reminiscing and sharing emerging passions and ideas. Reform quickly transformed from a dream into reality, inspired by the abundant local produce in South Australia.

A passion in distilling is what ignited the idea behind Reform, but it was the look and feel of the Kent Town neighbourhood that convinced them to establish their base in Little Rundle Street, Kent Town. The unique community combined with delicious local produce is its greatest inspiration.

All of their bespoke gins are created in-house with locally sourced produce, where possible, right down to the South Australian tonic they serve in their mind-blowing gin and tonics.

Reform embodies the friendly persona of the Kent Town community. Whether you're planning your next event, looking for somewhere to decompress for an end-of-week drink, or a spot to enjoy your Saturday night, Reform Distilling has you covered.

Enjoy a chat at the bar, a seat in front of the roaring fire or a catch-up with an old friend. You might come in for the gin, but the team at Reform Distilling guarantee you'll stay for the vibe!

The Suburban Brew

THE SUBURBAN BREW

LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR, LOVE THEIR BEER

The Suburban Brew is an Adelaide based award-winning craft beer brand that is all about bringing back the sense of neighborhood and community spirit through sharing a beer.

Born in 2017, business owners Tony Dichiera, Peter Bradley and Troy Brailsford aim to establish and grow local meeting places, where customers can drop in, have a pint (or two), enjoy the company of their friends and then pick up a few roadies to enjoy later.

Starting the journey as nomad-brewers, the trio decided in December 2022 to open their own 2000 litre production brewery and 200-person capacity taproom, in the heart of Glynde.

Set in a 1950s built warehouse, the brewery and taproom has great natural light, outdoor seating, a rotating list of food trucks, live music, DJs and a kid's zone, making it a great spot to enjoy a few beers straight from the source.
